

Repeal of Tax on Oleomargarine May Be at Hand

Two generations ago congress enacted a series of discriminatory taxes against oleomargarine—and the outrage was legalized by a politically-minded supreme court. The dairy industry of the North sought to fight the competitive sale of oleomargarine, a butter substitute manufactured from cottonseed oil—product of the South. The dairymen defended this tariff against a Southern product on the grounds that it protected the milk herds of America, and that it safeguarded consumers against having oleo palmed off on them in stores and public eating places for the real thing—butter.

But it was a tariff none the less—although the founders of our nation specifically forbade one state from levying a tariff against the product of another state for whatever reason.

But the United States Supreme Court upheld the law's constitutionality, and all subsequent additions and amendments to the law.

Now for the first generation it appears likely the oleomargarine tax will be repealed.

And fair enough. The state has the actual legal right to decide what the supreme court may say on an inflated moment—to tax a fellow state's products to help its own.

Strong Restriction Is Only Remedy for John L. Lewis By JAMES THRASHER

Some people have hailed Speaker Joe Martin's "settlement" of the coal strike as a master stroke of great political significance. They would have you believe that it was put Mr. Martin in the running for the Republican presidential nomination or that, at very least, he is now a dark horse or a considerably lighter color.

But Mr. Martin is a shrewd citizen who has been in politics a long time. And we would imagine that before conceding any chickens he has done some thinking on his fingers. If he has, he has discovered that from April 12, when the session dissolved, until June 30, when the UMW contract expires, is 80 days.

Now if the government had used its Taft-Hartley powers on April 12 to send the miners back to work, they would have been forbidden to strike for 80 days. But that would have been too much for John L. Lewis to swallow.

It would have meant that the power of a law which he hated would have been wielded by President Truman, whom he bitterly dislikes. That probably explains Mr. Lewis' amazingly sudden acceptance of Mr. Martin's remarkably sudden "settlement."

By agreeing with Mr. Martin, Mr. Lewis kept the law from forcing him to lose face by ending the strike. He also has, or probably has, turned the spotlight on another possible convention threat to Senator Taft, whose co-leadership of the labor relations law seems to have added to John L. Lewis' lengthy hate list.

But the results will doubtless be the same, whether they are achieved by agreement or injunction. Some coal will again be doled out to our hungry factories, generators and railroads. The miners may work through the Republican convention week. But that doesn't mean that the country won't hear the familiar announcement of "no contract, no work" on the 30th of June.

Wm. S. Knudsen Dies, Famed Head of GM

Detroit, April 27 —(AP)—William S. Knudsen, World War II coordinator of America's industrial might, died today following a long illness.

Death from a cerebral hemorrhage came to the 69-year-old former president of General Motors Corp. at 4:38 a. m. (EDT).

The white-haired Danish immigrant was known by fellow industrialists as "the greatest production genius of modern times."

He gave up the presidency of General Motors, the country's largest producer of automobiles, in 1940 to head the mammoth rearmament program initiated by the late President Roosevelt.

Knudsen was commissioned a lieutenant-general, the only civilian ever to hold that rank in the military office. He frequently admitted his embarrassment, remarking, "I'm not a military man."

Although the well-known automobile pioneer had been seriously ill for 16 months, death did not seem imminent until shortly after midnight, when he lost consciousness.

His wife, Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Knudsen, and their four children were at his bedside. Doctors Charles E. Lemmon and A.C. Lyness were in attendance.

It was believed that an extended tour of the battlefronts during the closing months of hostilities was a serious strain on the energies of the industrialist.

Close associates said he never fully regained the vigor of the early war years when he directed the rearmament program.

Arriving here from Copenhagen in 1899, the young son of a Danish customs inspector went to work in a shipyard and as a shophand on the Erie railroad.

He found his way into the new automotive industry. By 1913 he had served as assistant manager of a Buffalo concern which later merged with the Ford Motor Co. and then entered the Ford Detroit plant.

Becoming a citizen in 1914, he directed the Ford boat-building activity in the first world war. Knudsen joined General Motors in 1922. Soon he was named vice president of the Chevrolet division.

Repeal of 62-Year-Old Tax on Oleomargarine Near as House Prepares to Vote

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—Dairy state lawmakers drove hard today to require triangular-shaped oleo packages so the product can be "clearly distinguished from butter."

They brought forth this proposal as they conceded that the House will vote tomorrow to repeal the 62-year-old federal taxes on oleo.

However, they still hope the repeal bill can be stopped in the Senate.

The oleo forces won their first test against the butter bloc yesterday. The House voted 235 to 121 to disburge its agriculture committee from further consideration of various repealer bills and to put the issue squarely to the House floor for a showdown.

The agriculture committee had voted 16 to 10 to disburge the bills.

Temper flared during the opening debate before jam-packed galleries.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the Ways and Means Committee expected a direct threat at the South that limits on cotton imports will be lifted if the Southerners continue their battle to remove the tax.

"I am chairman of the committee that can do it," he said. Cotton seed and peanut oil are used in making oleo.

Republicans supporting the oleo tax repealer, Knutson stormed.

"You poor saps. I want to pay my compliments to the sap Republicans. The New Deal Congress has 10 years to do something about this, and it has not for them. Now look at you."

Before yesterday's first test, the two sides argued like this: Discriminatory, favoring one wholesome food against another. Its removal will help the housewife, by reducing the cost of oleomargarine and ending the color stirring chore in her kitchen.

Against repeal — the economy of ketchup has been built up for 62 years with the protection of the tax and repeal will play havoc with dairy farmers. Moreover oleo manufacturers will get the benefit of the tax repeal, not the housewife.

Republicans Worried by Stassen Drive

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—Growing signs of a stop-Stassen movement were countered today by claims that Harold E. Stassen may grab a share of Washington state's 19 GOP presidential nominating votes.

Stassen spokesmen here said supporters of the former Minnesota governor, by working down into the Washington delegates to the Republican National convention at Philadelphia this summer.

The story told by Stassen's backers is that his workers showed up in force at precinct meetings and succeeded in naming many delegates of their own to several county conventions, including the one in Spokane.

With this as a starter, the Stassen supporters contend they are certain to break into the national convention delegate lineup. That group had been generally regarded as likely to shift largely to Dewey after possible early ballots for Senator Harry Cain (Wash) and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Dewey backers retorted, however, that Stassen is only wishing to keep up his courage in Washington. They said control of Seattle and Tacoma delegations will freeze the Minnesota out of the state convention.

Cain is keynote speaker for that meeting and is in line to head the Washington delegation to Philadelphia. He is generally looked on as favoring Senator Arthur Vandenberg in nominating deadlock.

Formation of some Vandenberg clubs is reported under way in Washington.

Talk of the Michigan senator as a compromise candidate has in fact been going on for some time. Party chieftains said two of the party's best forces in the state are likely to back Stassen.

Within two weeks after I was discharged from the army I was employed. I have worked during the winter and have gone to school during the summer since that time.

Malone said he withdrew in view of the expansion of his personal business interests and also because of the probable heavy campaign expenses.

He indicated that he would give his personal support to whichever of the candidates came closest to his own platform of two years ago. However, he said he would not "suggest preferred consideration" for any candidate and urged each voter to do his own thinking.

"I intend to vote for and openly support the one candidate whom I believe is offering the soundest and most constructive program," Malone said, "in behalf of public schools, roads, hospitals, old age assistance, more rigid legislation and control of the liquor traffic, and other important problems."

Egyptian Armored Division Crosses Palestine Border

Jerusalem, April 27 —(AP)—A reliable Arab source said troops of an Egyptian armored division crossed Palestine's southern frontier at dawn today.

The report came on the heels of a Damascus report that a Trans-Jordan Arab Legion had occupied the town of Jericho and was moving into the dead valley of Palestine.

This was discounted here since legion security forces are on loan to the British under both the old and new British Trans-Jordan treaties.

Reports that Aifa is being shelled from Acre across the bay, were unconfirmed.

An official British Army spokesman in Jerusalem said one company of the Arab Legion "under British Army orders" had entered Jericho on specific duties.

"When their duties are finished," he said, "they will be withdrawn."

A Palestine government spokesman said "any Trans-Jordan troops now in Palestine are under command of the British general officer commanding and their conduct is in his hands. We have not heard of any declaration of war and consider any such declaration as extremely unlikely."

A Jewish agency spokesman told newsmen Jews had learned that last night the Trans-Jordan parties agreed to King Abdullah's demand to send troops into Palestine and ordered a general mobilization.

Armies of the four Arab nations which are in Palestine are reported ready to invade the Holy Land before the week ends.

The reports said the Egyptian army will launch the attack. It is not scheduled to end until May 1 and of the United Nations Security Council, which has ordered a cease-fire in Palestine.

In London, the foreign office announced that Britain will resist any Arab "incursions" into Palestine before the British mandate ends.

Arab forces swiftly occupied Alamiin camp at the southern edge of Jerusalem late yesterday without a shot. Jewish troops of Hagannah were deployed on the sides, but unable to act.

18-Year-Olds Would Serve Full Year in Army Under Compromise Training Plan

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—Military leaders are proposing a full year of training for 18-year-olds under a "compromise" universal training program.

It was learned today that this is being suggested to congressional committees which are considering a broad defense program revolving around three points: 1. Universal training 2. Temporary revival of the draft, and 3. Expansion of the air force.

The original "compromise" idea on universal training was that 18-year-olds should have six months of training to be followed by service in the National Guard or some other active, organized civilian reserve.

But some officials contend now that a man with only six months of training would be of little value in a military unit and that his minimum time should be at least one year.

The draft and training proposals are tied in closely with the controversy over how large the air force should be. Some air men want a 70-group air force. Secretary of Defense Forrestal has been backing to hold it to 66 groups.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said Forrestal's 66-group proposal is a "lot of poppycock" and a "camouflage" for universal military training.

Johnson told reporters the 70-group program the House has voted to get under way is the least needed for national security.

The Colorado senator lit into the Forrestal compromise plan as committees on both sides of the capital kept at the job of charting military preparedness. Here is the picture:

Malone and Leggett Out of Campaign

Little Rock, April 27 —(UPI)—The 1948 Arkansas gubernatorial campaign appeared stationary at seven candidates today with the official withdrawal of Bank Commissioner Tom W. Leggett as a candidate.

The commissioner's short statement followed by a few hours withdrawal of former County Judge James M. Malone of Leno.

"After thorough consideration," Leggett said, "I have decided not to become a candidate for governor. I do not feel like making the sacrifice of time, effort and expense necessary to make a vigorous campaign. Of those that stay in the field, I hope the best man wins."

Malone said he withdrew in view of the expansion of his personal business interests and also because of the probable heavy campaign expenses.

He indicated that he would give his personal support to whichever of the candidates came closest to his own platform of two years ago. However, he said he would not "suggest preferred consideration" for any candidate and urged each voter to do his own thinking.

"I intend to vote for and openly support the one candidate whom I believe is offering the soundest and most constructive program," Malone said, "in behalf of public schools, roads, hospitals, old age assistance, more rigid legislation and control of the liquor traffic, and other important problems."

Another expected to announce their withdrawal is J. Wesley Sampier of Rogers, former State American Legion commander.

Attorney Gen. Guy Williams, who withdrew last week and apparently started a trend, indicated that he will make a spirited campaign for the post as second division chancellor in the first district.

The authority of the special district court is limited to Pulaski county, but Williams said he would seek votes from White, Leno, and prairie counties as well as Pulaski. All four make up the first chancery district.

Thurston A. Hulsey Runs for Rep. No. 1

Thurston A. Hulsey, of Washington, today announced his candidacy for Representative Post No. 1 from Hempstead county. His formal statement follows:

"I have lived in Hempstead County all my life except for the time spent away while going to school and in the service."

"After finishing high school I entered Magnolia A. C. M. college in 1939. After attending school there that winter, and the summer and fall of 1940, I was mobilized into regular service with the 153rd Infantry, a national guard unit. I served fifty-six months in the service, and fifteen months overseas."

"Within two weeks after I was discharged from the army I was employed. I have worked during the winter and have gone to school during the summer since that time. My major at school is Political Science. This is my third year to teach school."

"It is my desire to see every citizen of Hempstead County before election. Since I plan to attend college this summer though this may not be possible."

"The Constitution of the United States guarantees to every state a republican form of government. A republican form of government is a representative one, or one in which the people elect their lawgivers. I am sure every citizen of the county is for; namely, better schools and roads. In my three years of teaching I have become well acquainted with these two problems."

"There is no selfish motive causing me to run for public office. My friends have encouraged me to run for the welfare of our county. If you want to be truly represented at Little Rock next winter then elect me as your representative for Post No. 1."

Vaccination of Cattle at Sardis, Clow

Cattle owners of the Sardis, Clow and Yancey neighborhoods in Northwest Hempstead county may have their cattle vaccinated for Anthrax Thursday and Friday by a representative of the State Veterinarian's Office, announces Olliver Adams, county agent. A spray truck will be available Thursday. The Thursday vaccinating centers are 9 a.m. at the Sam Arnold Farm and 11 a.m. in the Clow neighborhood. Friday morning vaccination for anthrax will be made at the Julius Reed and John J. Wilson farms.

This vaccination and spray for horn fly control is voluntary. The service will be performed by the state veterinarian's office at cost. Late last summer we lost a few head of cattle from Anthrax.

At a meeting at Sardis in February Dr. J. S. Campbell, State Veterinarian, recommended vaccination within a range of 5 miles of the farms that lost cattle with Anthrax. Vaccination for Anthrax must be made only by a qualified veterinarian.

Cattle owners desiring to have their cattle sprayed by the veterinarian, contact the county agent's office, phone 68 Hope, this Wednesday at the latest.

Vandenberg in Fresh Hint to Russia

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—Senator Vandenberg tossed out a fresh hint to Russia today that the United States may join western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression.

The Michigan senator — chief Republican exponent of this country's bipartisan foreign policy — at the same time served this warning on Americans:

"We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

Above all, Vandenberg said, Premier Stalin should understand that "we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made his pronouncements in a surprise speech last night at a dinner given by Michigan chambers of commerce and trade associations for the state's congressional delegation.

He declined afterwards to expand on his remarks. But Vandenberg appeared to be adding his own support to mounting indications that America will throw its military as well as its economic weight against Communist expansion in Europe.

Rapping what he called Russia's uncompromising refusal to let the United Nations perfect its own peace machinery, the senator declared:

"We have not yet even scratched the surface of the possibilities of its (the U. N.'s) regional arrangements, as exemplified in the Rio treaty. There can be vital progress in this procedure — and I venture to predict there will."

The Rio treaty drafted last fall provides that all other western hemisphere nations will come to the military aid of any one of them attacked by a country outside this hemisphere. Vandenberg helped write the treaty and led the fight for its ratification by the Senate.

There has been speculation that an American military alliance with the western European union now being organized might take the form of a regional defense system under the U. N. The union is being created as an adjunct of the multi-billion dollar recovery program which Vandenberg helped steer through Congress this spring.

CIO Asks U. S. Probe of K. C. Police

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—The CIO today asked a federal investigation of what it called a "wanton assault" by Kansas City, Kan., police on striking packinghouse workers last week.

CIO President Philip Murray requested action in separate letters to resident Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark. He said:

"The human actions of the police of Kansas City, Kan., mark a new low in police activities and make a mockery of the law which the officers are sworn to uphold."

"There is not the slightest justification for the wanton assault and irresponsible destruction of property to which the police resorted."

In the letter to the attorney general, Murray said "direct responsibility for the enforcement of civil rights falls within your jurisdiction."

Murray told Mr. Truman he was basing his appeal for an inquiry on eyewitness accounts of Kansas City police assaulting pickets outside the strike-closed Cudahy packing plant.

Murray also called upon Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas to relieve from duty "those responsible for this outrage, and to see to it that they are brought to justice."

His letter to Carlson said:

"It is my considered judgment that the chief executive of the state in which this shameful attack was committed, has a duty to his own state to vindicate the principles of justice and freedom which were so closely violated by the conduct of the police."

Hangar Burns on Ft. Smith Airport

Fort Smith, April 27 —(AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed the shop and quarters of the Fort Smith Flying Service, adjoining the main hangar at the Fort Smith municipal airport, and barely missed burning one man at 7:15 a.m. today.

Buel Phillips, operator of the flying service, placed loss in equipment and quarters at between $20,000 and $25,000. One airplane, in the shop at the time, was destroyed with loss placed between $1,000 and $1,500. Insurance was expected to cover most of the loss.

Phillips said the explosion apparently came from liquid celluloid, (Dope, lacquer, or other inflammable material in the shop. A fire door held the flames from the hangar proper.

2nd Magnolia Man Files for Congress

Little Rock, April 27 —(AP)—Henry B. Whitley, Magnolia, entered the race for seventh district congressman by filing a corrupt practices pledge today.

He will oppose Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado, and Vernon Whitten, Magnolia, who have filed previously.

The seventh district is composed of 10 South Arkansas counties.

Walter L. Pope, Little Rock, who announced recently for associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, filed a corrupt practices pledge. He will oppose Justice J. S. Holt and R. H. Trimble, Clarendon.

Other filings included:

Kenneth Hurst of Romance for State Senator from the 21st district composed of White and Woodruff counties. Dr. W. H. Abington, Beebe, and J. Ed Lightie, Searcy, filed previously.

Ocie Rogers of Fort Smith for state senator from the Fourth District composed only of Sebastian. He will oppose State Rep. Hearnslip Brown and J. (Pat) Garner, both of Fort Smith.

Pensions for Miners Doubtful

Washington, April 27 —(AP)—The $100-a-month pensions John L. Lewis wants for retired coal miners still are out of reach today.

Lewis thus is in about the same fix he was in before the now-ended pension strike started six weeks ago.

He can't get an agreement for paying pensions out of the $33,000,000 miners' welfare fund.

Lewis and his two fellow fund trustees held a two-hour meeting late yesterday. Apparently they couldn't agree, because each had only "no comment" for reporters after the meeting.

Senator Philip Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, conceded that no date had been set for starting the $100 monthly pensions to miners 62 years or older with 20 years' service he and Lewis had agreed upon on April 12.

The trustee representing the mine owners, Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, has asked the federal court here to tag the Lewis-Bridges plan as illegal and require the senior and union boss to make good any improper payments out of the fund.

Whether Van Horn's suit stopped Lewis and Bridges from going ahead with their plan, or whether Lewis or Bridges, or Van Horn broached some new plan, was anybody's guess.

The three called another meeting for Wednesday afternoon.

It has solved the problem of John L. Lewis. We doubt that Mr. Martin thinks so, either.

Somewhat it seems an admission of incapacity when Congress has to tailor a piece of legislation to fit one man. But it may have to be done in Mr. Lewis' case, as it was in Mr. Petillo's.

The threatened tie-up of the nation's economy every few months by John L. Lewis has long since become insufferable. It is dangerous and degrading that this country must make sacrifices to the self-importance of a pompous labor dictator and his undemocratic organization.

Distasteful as restrictive labor laws may be, it seems that strong restriction is the only remedy in this case. The contest is between freedom of action for Mr. Lewis or for the American people, their government and their commerce. As things stand now, Mr. Lewis has the freedom, and the country suffers.

Market Report

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, April 27 —(AP)—Cotton futures turned firm today following early easiness. Aggressive mill buying, along with some replacement commission house demand and short covering supported the upturn. The market was largely influenced by the situation in nearby May where 119 may transferable notices were issued on the first notice day for that contract. Spot cotton markets were firm, reflecting expectations of a good export demand.

Futures closed $1.20 to $2.35 a bale higher than the previous close. May high 37.89 — low 37.45 — last 37.84 up 31.

July high 37.15 — low 36.62 — last 37.13-15 up 45-47.

NEW YORK STOCKS
New York, April 27 —(AP)—Stocks tried to revive their spring rally in today's market, but with only scattered success.

Buying orders arrived after some early easiness, and lifted favorite rails, motors, oils, steel and farm implements into higher ground. Many gains were reduced in the final minutes and closing prices were irregular.

Some of the steels backed down narrowly as Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet announced they would refuse wage demands and institute price reductions similar to

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
Chicago, April 27 —(AP)—A boost in the government export allocations for the present crop year sent prices higher at the board of trade today.

Wheat advanced more than 3 cents at times in fairly active trading, and most of the profit cashing was easily absorbed.

Corn was also strong on light country offerings, which were placed at 71,000 bushels, and a firmer tone of the cash market. Short covering in the May contract pushed that delivery ahead of other contracts.

Oats followed the action of corn in a modest manner.

At the finish wheat was 1-1/2 to 2-1/4 higher than the previous close. May $2.40 1-1/2-3/4. Corn was 3-4 to 2-1/2 higher. May $2.17 1-1/2-1-3/4. Oats were 3-8 lower to 1-1/4 higher. May $1.00 1-4-3/8. Soybeans were unchanged to 1 cent higher. May $4.00.

Cash wheat was quoted higher with the futures trade today although no sales were reported; basis unchanged; receipts 11 cars. Corn was three to four cents higher; basis unchanged to 1-1/2 cent more; bookings 70,000 bushels; shipping sales 40,000 bushels; receipts 48 cars. Oats were two to three cents up basis unchanged; hipping sales 7,000 bushels; receipts 15 cars. Soybeans receipts were four cars.

Quadruplets, Day Old, Die in Detroit

Detroit, April 27 —(AP)—The last of four tiny babies born yesterday to Mrs. Anne Borg died early this morning in a Detroit hospital.

Born prematurely, the three girls and one boy were given a good chance to survive at first. But two died late in the afternoon, a third expired at 10:55 p. m. and the last succumbed at 1:25 a. m.

The 28-year-old mother was reported in good condition. Her husband, Joseph, also 28, is a pipefitter employed by the Ford Motor Co.

The babies—each weighing less than two pounds—were delivered by Dr. Edward King at Providence Hospital yesterday morning and placed immediately in an incubator. The Rev. Fr. Gerard Berry baptized them Joseph, Mary, Margaret and Anne.

Borg said he and his wife were expecting only one baby, and not for another two and a half months.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that BSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the BSS Tonic formula which contains special, and potent activating ingredients.

Also, BSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is BSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. They sped swiftly through the streets, empty today save for the sparse Sunday traffic. Charlotte sat beside Roger, Patience behind them. The two in front spoke very little. Patience wondered uneasily what was wrong with them. They didn't seem to be getting along very well. Last night she'd noticed that Charlotte had been singularly irritable. Was it that they were growing tired of each other? That each had found someone else?

They turned in at the wide gates of the airport and Patience saw the plane waiting on the tarmac. As she followed Charlotte aboard she knew a moment's panic. "Scared?" asked Roger.

"For heaven's sake, Patience, don't get nervous," said Charlotte sharply.

Patience pulled herself together. The steward put the strap round her.

"What's this for?" she asked anxiously.

"Only just for taking off and landing, miss."

Patience gave a little shudder. "I don't think I'm going to like it."

Punching Pillow Shapes Curves

WANT to develop a shapelier bust? Punch a pillow. That's one of the best exercises for strengthening pectoral muscles which support the bust and help to enhance its size.

All you need to do to rig up a punching bag is to tie a couple of big sofa pillows together with a clothesline. Suspend in a doorway so that pillows are hung just above the level of your head. That way your arms will have free reach for upward thrust.

Your exercise? Clench fists and strike out, swinging pillows as forcefully as a prize fighter. Alternate arms as you punch. Start with 10 punches and gradually increase count to 50.

The Doctor Says:
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
Many abnormally thin people find that it is much easier to know they should gain weight than to accomplish it. There are two ways to gain weight: (1) cut down on the activity output, and (2) increase the food intake. It is usually easier to gain by increasing the intake than at the same time holding exercising down to what it was.

There are several ways of increasing the food intake. One of them is to choose foods with the highest calorie value. Starches or carbohydrates and fats supply more energy and have more effect on weight than proteins do.

Maintain Balance
When trying to gain weight one should include fatter meat, more butter or margarine, cream, sweets, potatoes bread and cereals. Balance must be maintained in the diet, however. It is not wise to cut out fruits, vegetables, meat, milk and eggs which supply ingredients necessary to maintain good health.

Another thing which can be done besides choosing the right diet is to eat more at each meal. The amount one eats is largely habit and can be changed. The stomach can be trained to hold more by gradually increasing the amount taken at each meal. One good way to do this is to eat until the appetite is satisfied and then always take a few more mouthfuls.

More food can be taken also just by eating extra meals. A small mid-morning meal, an afternoon or bed-time snack of weight-gaining foods are helpful. A glass of half milk and half cream is a good example of what could be taken.

It cannot be emphasized too often that a balanced diet must be kept up. Almost anyone who does not have some serious disease can gain weight by following the plan of decreasing or at least not increasing activity and increasing the food eaten.

Columbus Juniors to Present Play on Friday Night

The Junior High School of Columbus, Arkansas presented a comedy in three acts, "Oh, Aunt Jerusha" on Friday night, April 30, at 8:15. It will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

Miss Jerusha Jibbs and Uncle Billy Babcock have been sworn enemies ever since "way back in unmythical time, upon the eve of marriage, they quarreled and parted at the altar. So bitterly does their feud rage that it threatens to blight the love affair of Miss Jerusha's niece with Uncle Billy's nephew. When Uncle Billy's friends start a movement to run him for mayor, Miss Jerusha's friends persuade her to run against him; and the fun begins. In a short time, it takes on the character of a grand farce for all in which cupid feels badly mauled. Then a miracle happens, and the merry farce ends to the tune of wedding bells. Includes a program of easy stunts with some hilariously funny female impersonation. A scream from the cast.

Among the cast are an imple little girl played by Pat Middlebrook; a fat colored mammy, Heliotrope, played by Virginia Mitchell; a comedy dentist, Dr. Fullen, played by Billy Thompson; two pugacious business men, Buddy Wilson and Thomas Mitchell McCorkle; and two self important club women, Martha Helen Johnson and Florence McCorkle. The four main characters, Billy Babcock, Jerusha Jibbs, Ray Babcock, and Barbara Jibbs are played respectively by Herbert J. Spies, Emma L. Downs, Earl Adams and Hazel Delaney.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED

DOROTHY DIX Parents and Pals, Too

Taking them by and large, the great majority of parents love their children dearly and make many sacrifices to give them comfortable homes, good educations, and even the kind of sport togs that other kids have. But the fathers and mothers who are friends with their youngsters are almost as rare as white blackbirds.

The average parents have little more than a bare speaking acquaintance with their children. They are devoted to their Tommies and Sallies. They are kind and indulgent to them. They are frantic if they are ill. But they are not on confidential terms with them, and the whole neighborhood knows more about what the youngsters are doing and thinking than their fathers and mothers do.

A brilliant and famous old man once said to me that it was the regret of his life that he had never really had a man-to-man talk with his father, for he was sure that if he had been so congenial if they had only known each other well enough to have been friends.

Probably this is a common experience, for when we think back to our own childhood most of us realize that after we outgrew our infantile babble, we never had any free talk with our parents. Perhaps this was because we stood in such awe of our fathers and mothers that we never opened our hearts to them, or because they always talked to us in terms of a confidence we made, or made a funny story out of the secret we whispered to them. But, whatever it was, it raised a barrier that we could never break down, and that made it easier to tell things to a stranger than it did to our parents.

Abets Delinquency
This inability of fathers and mothers to make friends of their children is responsible for much of the juvenile delinquency which is such a headache and heartache to the world just now. For how can parents guide and protect their boys and girls if they don't know what they are thinking and planning and doing?

If home is a place of taboos in which children have as little personal liberty as they would have in a concentration camp, and if parents never speak to their adolescent children except to correct them, and deprive them of their foolish little childish pleasures, it is inevitable that they will drive their youngsters into doing by stealth what they are not permitted to do openly; for youth will be served.

But these tragedies do not happen in families where Father and Mother put up with their kids from their very infancy, and where there are no autocrats who rule the helpless children in their power with a ruthless disregard of their happiness and desires.

No foolish young fellow gets into trouble when her mother is her most intimate friend who will listen with sympathy and understanding while she tells about what a grand party it was and how many cut-ins she had, and what a peachy dancer Johnny is and how she thinks her own shirt is in love with him. The girls who go astray are those who have to lie and cheat to have the fun that belongs to their time of life, and whose mothers are always strangers to them.

Lucky the youngsters whose parents are also their best friends!

Vaccination of Cattle at Sardis, Clow

Cattle owners of the Sardis, Clow and Yancey neighborhoods in Northwest Hempstead county may have their cattle vaccinated for Anthrax Thursday and Friday by a representative of the State Veterinarian's Office, announces Oliver Adams, county agent. A spray truck will be available Thursday. The Thursday vaccination centers are 9 a.m. at the Sam Arnold Farm or 11 a.m. at the Clow neighborhood. Friday morning vaccination for anthrax will be made at the Julius Reed and John J. Wilson farms.

This vaccination and spray for horn fly control is voluntary. The service will be performed by the state veterinarian's office at cost. Late last summer we lost a few head of cattle from Anthrax.

At a meeting at Sardis in February Dr. J. S. Campbell, State Veterinarian, recommended vaccination within a range of 5 miles of the farms that lost cattle with Anthrax. Vaccination for Anthrax must be made only by a qualified veterinarian.

Cattle owners desiring to have their cattle sprayed by the veterinarian should contact the county agent's office, phone 68 Hope, this Wednesday at the latest.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so you get a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait until the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Vandenberg in Fresh Hint to Russia

Washington, April 27 —(P)—Senator Vandenberg tossed out a fresh hint to Russia today that the United States may join western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression.

The Michigan senator — chief Republican exponent of this country's bi-partisan foreign policy — at the same time served this warning on Americans:

"We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

Above all, Vandenberg said, Premier Stalin should understand that "we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made his pronouncements in a surprise speech last night at a dinner given by Michigan chambers of commerce and trade associations for the state's congressional delegation.

He declined afterwards to expand on his remarks, but Vandenberg appeared to be adding his own support to mounting indications that America will throw its military as well as its economic weight against Communist expansion in Europe.

Rapping what he called Russia's uncompromising refusal to let the United Nations play a role in the Rio treaty, there can be vital progress in this procedure — and I venture to predict there will.

The Rio treaty drafted last fall provides that all other western hemisphere nations will come to the military aid of any one of them attacked by a country outside this hemisphere. Vandenberg helped write the treaty and led the fight for its ratification by the Senate.

There has been speculation that an American military alliance with the western European union now being organized might take the form of a regional defense system under the U. N. The union is being created as an adjunct of the multi-billion dollar recovery program which Vandenberg helped steer through Congress this spring.

CIO Asks U. S. Probe of K. C. Police

Washington, April 27 —(P)—The CIO today asked a federal investigation of what it called a "wanton assault" by Kansas City, Kas., police on striking packinghouse workers last week.

CIO President Philip Murray requested action in separate letters to President Truman and Attorney General Clark. He said: "The inhumane actions of the police of Kansas City, Kas., mark a new low in police activities and make a mockery of the law which the officers are sworn to uphold. There is not the slightest justification for the wanton assault and irresponsible destruction of property to which the police resorted."

In the letter to the attorney general, Murray said "direct responsibility for the enforcement of civil rights falls within your jurisdiction."

Murray told Mr. Truman he was basing his appeal for an inquiry on eyewitness accounts of Kansas City police assaulting pickets outside the strike-closed Cudahy packing plant.

Murray also called upon Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas to relieve from duty "those responsible for this outrage, and to see to it that they are brought to justice."

His letter to Carlson said: "I am my considered judgment that the chief executive of the state in which this shameful attack was committed, has a duty to his own state to vindicate the principles of justice and freedom which were so closely violated by the conduct of the police."

Hangar Burns on Ft. Smith Airport

Fort Smith, April 27 —(P)—An explosion and fire destroyed the shop and quarters of the Fort Smith Flying Service, adjoining the main hangar at the Fort Smith Municipal airport, and barely missed burning one man at 7.15 a.m. today.

Buell Phillips, operator of the flying service, placed loss in equipment and quarters at between $20,000 and $25,000. One airplane, in the shop at the time, was destroyed with loss placed between $1,000 and $1,500. Insurance was expected to cover most of the loss.

Phillips said the explosion apparently came from liquid celluloid, (Dope, lacquer, or other inflammable material in the shop.

A fire door held the flames from the hangar proper.

2nd Magnolia Man Files for Congress

Little Rock, April 27 —(P)—Henry R. Whitley, Magnolia, entered the race for seventh district congressman by filing a corrupt practices pledge today.

He will oppose Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado, and Vernon Whitten, Magnolia, who have filed previously.

The seventh district is composed of 10 South Arkansas counties. Walter L. Pope, Little Rock, who announced recently for associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, filed a corrupt practices pledge. He will oppose Justice J. S. Hall and R. R. Trimble, Clarendon.

Other filings included: Kenneth Hurst of Romance for State Senator from the 21st district composed of White and Woodruff counties; Dr. W. H. Abington, Beebe, and J. Ed Lightle, Searcy, filed previously.

Ocie Rogers of Fort Smith for state senator from the Fourth District composed only of Sebastian. He will oppose State Rep. Heartall Ragon and J. E. (Pat) Garner, both of Fort Smith.

Pensions for Miners Doubtful

Washington, April 27 —(P)—The $100-a-month pensions John L. Lewis wants for retired coal miners still are out of reach today.

Lewis thus is in about the same fix he was in before the now-ended pension strike started six weeks ago.

He can't get an agreement for paying pensions out of the $33,000,000 miners welfare fund.

Lewis and his two fellow fund trustees held a two-hour meeting late yesterday. Apparently they couldn't agree, because each had only "no comment" for reporters afterward.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, conceded that no date had been set for starting the $100 monthly pensions to miners 62 years or older with 20 years' service. But Lewis had agreed upon April 12.

The trustee representing the mine owners, Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, has asked the federal court here to tag the Lewis-Bridges plan as illegal — and require the senator and union boss to make good any improper payments out of the fund.

Whether Van Horn's suit stopped Lewis and Bridges from going ahead with their plan, or whether Lewis, or Bridges, or Van Horn broached some new plan, was anybody's guess.

The three called another meeting for Wednesday afternoon.

It has solved the problem of John L. Lewis. We doubt that Mr. Martin thinks so, either.

Somewhat it seems an admission of incapacity when Congress has to tailor a piece of legislation to fit one man. But it may have to be done in Mr. Lewis' case, as it was in Mr. Petrillo's.

The threatened tie-up of the nation's economy every few months by John L. Lewis has long since become insufferable. It is dangerous and degrading that this country must make sacrifices to the self-importance of a pompous labor dictator and his undernourished organization.

Unjustified as restrictive labor laws may be, it seems that strong restriction is the only remedy in this case. The contest is between freedom of action for Mr. Lewis or for the American people, their government and their commerce. As things stand now, Mr. Lewis has the freedom, and the country suffers.

Market Report

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, April 27 —(P)—Cotton futures turned firm today following early ease. Aggressive mill buying, along with some replacement commission house demand and short covering supported the upturn. Spot cotton markets were firm, reflecting expectations of a good export demand.

NEW YORK STOCKS
New York, April 27 —(P)—Stocks tried to revive their spring rally in today's market, but with only scattered success.

Buying orders arrived after some early ease, and lifted favorite rails, motors, oils, steel and farm implements into higher ground. Many gains were reduced in the final minutes and closing prices were irregular.

Some of the steels backed down narrowly as Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet announced they would reduce wage demands and institute price reductions similar to those U. S. Steel has planned effective May 1.

Activity ranging slightly above yesterday's pace carried total transactions for the day to around 1,600,000 shares.

Sputtering to new 1948 highs were Southern Railway, Plymouth Oil, Anderson-Pritchard and Texas Pacific Land Trust. Other prominent climbers included Oliver Corp. (On an increased dividend), Nickel late, Great Northern Preferred, Pacific Western Oil, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Philip Morris and International Harvester. Staying in lower ground were Allegheny Chemical, Gulf Oil, Standard Oil N.J., Montgomery Ward and U. S. Gypsum.

Bonds improved.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silently you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
Chicago, April 27 —(P)—A boost in the government export allocations for the present crop year sent prices higher at the board of trade today.

Wheat advanced more than 3 cents at times in fairly active trading, and most of the profit cashing was easily absorbed.

Corn was also strong on light country offerings, which were placed at 71,000 bushels, and a firmer tone of the cash market. Short covering in the May contract pushed that delivery ahead of other contracts.

Oats followed the action of corn in a modest manner.

At the finish wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher than the previous close, May $2.40 1-2-3-4. Corn was 2-3 to 2 1/2 higher, May $2.17 1-2-3-4. Oats were 3-4 lower to 1 1/4 higher, May $1.06 1-4-3-4. Soybeans were unchanged to 4 cents higher, May $4.00.

Cash wheat was quoted higher with the futures trade today, although no sales were reported; basis was unchanged; receipts 11 cars. Corn was three to four cents higher; basis unchanged to 1-2 cent more; bookings 70,000 bushels; shipping sales 40,000 bushels; receipts 48 cars. Oats were two to

Detroit, April 27 —(P)—The last of four tiny babies born yesterday to Mrs. Anne Burg died early this morning in a Detroit hospital.

Born prematurely, the three girls and one boy were given a good chance to survive at first. But two died late in the afternoon, a third expired at 10:55 p. m. and the last succumbed at 1:25 p. m.

The 28-year-old mother was reported in good condition. Her husband, Joseph, also 28, is a pipefitter employed by the Ford Motor Co.

The babies—each weighing less than two pounds—were delivered by Dr. Edward King at Providence Hospital yesterday morning and placed immediately in an incubator. The Rev. Fr. Gerard Berry baptized them Joseph, Mary, Margaret and Anne.

Burg said he and his wife were expecting only one baby, and not for another two and a half months.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Science has at last solved the problem!

It is now known that Pin-Worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So beware of that nagging rectal itch, and act fast. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worm. P-W is a medicine by sound treatment based on an officially approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.

How to Fall in Love

in one easy lesson

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

What's Different About DYNAFLO DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produces a torque-booster effect in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated, and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Many abnormally thin people find that it is much easier to know they should gain weight than to accomplish it. There are two ways to gain weight: (1) cut down on the activity output, and (2) increase the food intake. It is usually easier to gain by increasing the intake and at the same time holding exercising down to what it was.

There are several ways of increasing the food intake. One of them is to choose foods with the highest caloric value. Starches or carbohydrates and fats supply more energy and have more effect on weight than proteins do.

Maintain Balance
When trying to gain weight one should include fatter meat, more butter or margarine, cream, sweets, potatoes bread and cereals. Balance must be maintained in the diet, however. It is not wise to cut out fruits, vegetables, meat, milk and eggs which supply ingredients necessary to maintain good health.

Another thing which can be done besides choosing the right diet is to eat more at each meal. The amount one eats is largely habit and can be changed. The stomach can be trained to hold more by gradually increasing the amount taken at each meal. One good way to do this is to eat until the appetite is satisfied and then always take a few more mouthfuls.

More food can be taken also just by eating extra meals. A small mid-morning meal, an afternoon or bed-time snack of weight-gaining foods are helpful. A glass of half milk and half cream is a good example of what could be taken.

It cannot be emphasized too often that a balanced diet must be kept up. Almost anyone who does not have some serious disease can gain weight by following the plan of decreasing or at least not increasing actively and increasing the food eaten.

Punching Pillow Shapes Curves

WANT to develop a shapelier bust? Punch a pillow. That's one of the best exercises for strengthening pectoral muscles which support the bust and help to enhance its size.

All you need to do to rig up a punching bag is to tie a couple of big sofa pillows together with a clothesline. Suspend in a doorway so that pillows are hung just above the level of your head. That way your arms will have free reach for upward thrust.

Your exercise? Clench fists and strike out, swinging pillows as forcefully as a prize fighter. Alternate arms as you punch. Start with 10 punches and gradually increase count to 50. — ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer.

Columbus Juniors to Present Play on Friday Night

The Junior High School of Columbus, Arkansas presents a comedy in three acts, "Oh, Aunt Jerusha" on Friday night, April 30, at 8:15. It will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

Miss Jerusha Jibbs and Uncle Billy Babcock have been sworn enemies ever since 'way back in unmy-steen when, upon the eve of marriage they quarreled and parted at the altar. So bitterly does their feud rage that it threatens to blight the love affair of Miss Jerusha's niece with Uncle Billy's nephew. When Uncle Billy's friends start a movement to run him for mayor, Miss Jerusha's friends persuade her to run against him; and the fun begins. In a short time, it takes on the character of a grand free for all in which cupid gets badly mauled. Then a miracle happens. The merry farce ends to the wedding bells. Includes a program of easy stunts with some hilariously funny female impersonation. A scream from start to finish.

Among the cast are an impish little girl played by Pat Middlebrooks; a fat, colorful mammy, Heliotrope, played by Virginia Mitchell; a comedy dentist, Dr. Pullen, played by Billy Thompson; two pugacious business men, Buddy Wilson and Thomas Mitchell McCormick; and two self important club women, Martha Helen Johnson and Florence McCormick. The four main characters, Billy Babcock, Jerusha Jibbs, Ray Babcock, and Barbara Jebbs are played respectively by Herbert J. Sipes, Emma L. Downs, Earl Adams and Hazel Delaney.

Clubs
Shower Springs
The Shower Springs 4-H Club met April 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Building for their regular monthly meeting. Jimmy Mullins, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Harold Sanford, girls local leader, led the group in singing "Old McDonald Had a Farm." 24 members answered roll call. Following the roll call, the members reviewed the meaning of the 4-H club emblem, gave the 4-H club motto and pledge.

Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, discussed with the girls how to hem a dress properly, how to sew on buttons, and gave other hints on how to keep a dress from looking home made.

The programs in Hybrid Corn, Lorado Soybeans, for hay, and the

DOROTHY DIX Parents and Pals, Too

Taking them by and large, the great majority of parents love their children dearly and make many sacrifices to give them comfortable homes, good educations, and even the kind of sport togs that other kids have. But the fathers and mothers who are friends with their youngsters are almost as rare as white blackbirds.

The average parents have little more than a bare speaking acquaintance with their children. They are devoted to their Tommies and Sallys. They are kind and indulgent to them. They are frantic if they are ill. But they are not on confidential terms with them, and the whole neighborhood knows more about what the youngsters are doing and thinking than their fathers and mothers do.

A brilliant and famous old man once said to me that it was the regret of his life that he had never really had a man-to-man talk with his father, for he was sure that they would have been so congenial if they had only known each other well enough to have been friends.

Probably this is a common experience, for when we think back to our own childhood most of us realize that after we outgrew our infantile babble, we never had any face talk with our parents. Perhaps this was because we stood in such awe of our fathers and mothers that we never opened our hearts to them, or because they always tackled a lecture onto any confidence we made, or made a funny story out of the secret we whispered to them. But, whatever it was, it raised a barrier that we could never break down, and that made it easier to tell things to a stranger than it did to our parents.

This inability of fathers and mothers to make friends of their children is responsible for much of the juvenile delinquency which is such a headache and heartache to the world just now. For how can

Memphis On Top of Dixie Circuit

By The Associated Press

The Memphis Chicks are riding the top of the Southern Association standings today as a result of last night's 14-3 victory over the Atlanta Crackers. The triumph gave the Chicks the series, three to one.

Mobile, tied with Memphis, was ninth out of its last games with Nashville, but won the series two to one.

New Orleans blasted Chattanooga 13-3, making it three straight to the series for the one.

Birmingham and Little Rock wound up their series Sunday, with the former on top, three to one, and were idle last night.

The Barons, however, remain at home tonight with Memphis, and Little Rock invades Atlanta. In other pairings, Chattanooga is at Mobile and Nashville at New Orleans.

The Crackers blasted the usually reliable Chick seminary from the top of the series with five hits. Memphis scored once in the third and once in the fourth to tie the score, and then went ahead to stay with two runs in the fifth.

Ray Hartsog, who relieved Elsenmann with two out in the first, gave only three hits after that but the Crackers were still winning striking distance until Fred Hancock poled a grand slam homer in the eighth. Shelby Kinney was the loser.

Umpire Eddie Burke ejected two Crackers, Jack Hollis and Red Mathis, for contesting decisions.

New Orleans got off to a five-run lead in the first inning off Chattanooga's Vern Curtis, and added three in the sixth, and five in the seventh. Meanwhile, George Diehl was coasting along on ten hits to get credit for the victory.

His two successors, John Dixon and Henry Delay.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh A. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, April 27 —(P)— In spite of those huge "assembly line" training camps that some major league baseball clubs put on for their minor affiliates, some smart baseball men deep in the bushes aren't too happy about 1948 prospects. Listen... from one anonymous gent who knows his way around the minor: "I'm afraid that the use of over-estimated players who would be developed in the armed forces. With so many leagues going, some of the Class D's will have to employ pretty raw talent. If the situation prevails throughout the league and keeps it in balance, it will not be so bad. The danger is when one club manages to snag a few experienced performers, who will put that club far ahead in a runaway race."

A league president "I feel that in a way we will eventually destroy hometown enthusiasm and support if local ownership and management is taken away." Another president (after quoting figures to show that only a winning class "D" club can hope to break even): "Training is an expensive proposition and most class D clubs are pleased to have the parent club train the ball players and ship them in ten days before the opening, keeping them ten days is no small item."

One-minute sports page. Ben Hogan declares that the toughest part of the winter golf is adjusting your game to the different types of grasses and putting greens. Arnold Tucker also gave a helping hand for a short time. From this distance, we'd say Hank Sauer is looking very sweet on the plate for the Cincinnati Reds.

PGA Tourney Draws All of Big Names

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, April 27 —(P)—None of the big berths of professional golf apparently will be passed up when the money boys get together in St. Louis next month for their own private feud — the National P.G.A. championship.

Most of the top shotmakers sat on the sidelines yesterday while a land war of the field was being waged in sectional qualifying tests.

Those "name" performers who had to work for an entrance ticket came through without mishap. George Schneider of Ogden, Utah, the tournament chairman of the Professional Golfers Association fittingly set the pattern by firing a 10-under-par 66-68-134 at Salt Lake City.

The turned out to be the day's best individual effort. Former Open Champion Lawson Little of Monterey, Calif., and veterans Toney Penna, Horton Smith and Jimmie Hines managed to make the grade with a less spectacular try.

Little went four strokes over standard figures at Richmond, Calif., shooting a 73-75-143, but qualified.

Penna, the colorful little Italian from Toledo, soared eight over par at Springfield, Ohio, with 78-74-152.

Horton Smith of Detroit had a 72-70-142 for the second best score at Detroit. Jimmie Hines of Chicago registered a 145, one over, to qualify in his home town.

Thirty-one golfers—including leading money winner Lloyd Mangrum, National Open Champion Jim Worsham and such stars as Lew Fellers, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson—were exempt from qualifying.

They will join the P.G.A. field at St. Louis' Norwood Hills Country Club May 19-25 along with 103 sectional qualifiers and 25 top finishers in national capital tournament at Washington, D.C., next week.

strikes off the shackles put there by Wagner. The members said they forbidden to speak out against their rulers even though the Taft-Hartley law would appear to release them from the bondage of CIO. If you were a waitress with a cupid quiver in a nursery by day, would you take chance on your freedom of speech and express your grievances to a reporter except under a solemn promise of secrecy and protection?

Notwithstanding the Bill of Rights, there stands section 3 of article X4 of the by-laws of a typical union of the American Federation of Labor: "Any member convicted of divulging any secrets or business of this local to outsiders shall be fined, suspended or expelled at the discretion of this union."

Most unions have identical or similar penalties, but hundreds of courageous men and women, dragged into unions by Roosevelt and Wagner, have taken their chances with the final result that the whole vicious racket has been brought into appropriate disrepute.

Those who are Communists have been denounced. The world didn't dare trust the Labor Relations Board or the Department of Labor under Frances Perkins or her successors. Their names would have been wired straight back to union headquarters if they would have been expelled and blacklisted and, not improbably, crippled or killed.

It was due to the primary courage and confidence of American workers in violating union secrecy that Joe Jac, Bioff, Browne, Scallie, and, by actual count, more than a hundred other brutal rascals of Roosevelt's party of humanity finally were sent to prison despite the opposition of the fatherly department of Justice. The Roosevelt regime was the accomplice of these vermin so the only safe method of protest was through the press.

If the law does forbid spying on unions, Mr. Clark should enforce it. As a starter he might tackle a flagrant and notorious violator, meaning me.

DAR Ban Against Immigration Hit by High Catholic

Washington, April 26 — (UP)—A Catholic archbishop yesterday assailed the "regrettable" revolution for opposing admission of more immigrants to this country.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington said it was "regrettable" that the DAR and its leaders "have not taken the time and the energy to learn" that the displaced persons of Europe are among the "strongest opponents of Communism."

The DAR adopted a resolution against relaxing immigration during its convention here last week.

MUSICIAN KILLED

San Francisco, April 26 — (AP)—Derwood Stuart, 38, popular jazz trumpet player, was stabbed to death today in a sidewalk quarrel over a $10 loan.

Police charged Garrett Piper, 53, with charges of suspicion of murder. The musician had appeared with Negro name bands throughout the country for the past 20 years.

Rosenwald Fund Spending Is Completed

Chicago, April 26 — (AP)—Trustees of the Julius Rosenwald Fund have finished their job of spending $22,000,000 for "the well-being of mankind."

Edwin R. Embree, president of the trustees, said Saturday the money grants were intended "to enrich and equalize opportunities for all Americans," but he added that "opportunities in America are not yet nearly equal."

The fund, originally $10,000,000 in stock of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was a gift from Julius Rosenwald, internationally known philanthropist who died in 1932. He directed that it be spent for "the well-being of mankind" within 25 years.

Although the fund more than doubled in value, Embree noted that it has been allocated in about 18 years.

Embree announced these gifts from the fund:

Five million dollars for the building of 5,357 rural schools for Negroes in cooperation with Southern States and counties; five million dollars to Negro colleges; two million dollars for development of health services for Negroes; a million and a half dollars for pay clinics and other facilities for persons of moderate means and establishment of hospital insurance; two million dollars for followships for the advanced training of 600 Negroes; and 250 white Southerners; three million dollars to the general fund of race relations; and four million dollars for general education and support of general social agencies.

Lana Turner Is Wed for 4th Time

By VIRGINIA MACHESON
Hollywood, April 26. — (UP)—Lana Turner, who has eloped three times, walked down a make-shift aisle yesterday to marry Bob Topping in her first real wedding in 10 years of headline romances.

The movie star and the millionaire said their "I do's" with all the ceremonial trimmings — from a floral-bedecked altar to the traditional white satin runner for the bride to walk on.

The lavish ceremony was performed at the Bel-Air mansion of Publisher Billy Wilkerson, who discovered Lana sipping a soda in a drug store.

After the reception, the couple attended a champagne reception and buffet luncheon on the terrace of the Wilkerson home.

The luncheon included six-pounce lobsters flown from Boston especially for the occasion; caviar, roast pheasant, smoked salmon, plus such everyday dishes as roast beef, ham and turkey.

Tasty tid-bits also had been flown from New York and Louisiana to satisfy the 50 invited guests.

The sumptuous feast was all in keeping with the $30,000 trousseau Miss Turner ordered for her wedding.

The pheasants, after being roasted, then had their tailfeathers and wings replaced so the guests could admire their life-like beauty before devouring them.

Ice statues of the bride and bridegroom and elaborate figures of kissing birds were scattered about the table.

BODY FOUND

Conway, April 27 — (AP)—The body of an unidentified white man, estimated by Deputy Sheriff C. O. Hensley to have been dead seven to 10 days, was found in a field near Conway yesterday.

Today as a candidate for 21st district state senator. The district includes White and Woodruff counties.

Lightle, Searcy attorney who served his first term in the legislature, claiming that the U. S. A. is in the militarily strategic and oil-rich Middle East, and (2) to prevent extension of American power in that vital area.

The development has a somewhat complicated background, but the nub of it is this: The U. N. Political Committee, comprising the entire membership of the peace organization, has for some time been considering an American plan for trusteeship over Palestine.

Russia has opposed any trusteeship, claiming that the U. S. A. is maneuvering for military bases and petroleum in the Middle East.

Well now, any trusteeship would have to be handled by the trusteeship council. The Soviet Union belongs to the council but has been maintaining a boycott until now, when the council has suddenly assumed unusual importance. Hence Moscow's cool move at long last in naming a representative to that body and thus getting set for action.

It is a tragedy that the sanguinary Jewish-Arab struggle over the Holy Land should be complicated by rivalry between Russia and the major Western Allies for domination of the Middle East. These two elements so devoted to constitute a grave menace to global peace.

However, we at least have the satisfaction of seeing the present phase of the big power competition confined largely to the United Nations. The hope naturally must be that it can be kept there.

The most important issue revolves about the question of sending an international force to Palestine to maintain peace. The Russians would give their shirts to get a Red Army into the Middle East, thereby establishing a military grip which they could exploit as they have their hold on eastern Germany. That would get the Bolshevik boot into the door of one of the world's most important areas.

Washington has made it clear that the United States is firmly opposed to any U. N. plan which would involve the sending of Russian troops to Palestine. However, that's a ticklish position to maintain and observers anticipate that America will do all possible to avoid being maneuvered into a position of taking a formal position on the matter in the United Nations. Whether she will be able to avert a showdown is a matter of speculation, since the Palestine situation is fluid and the future is uncertain.

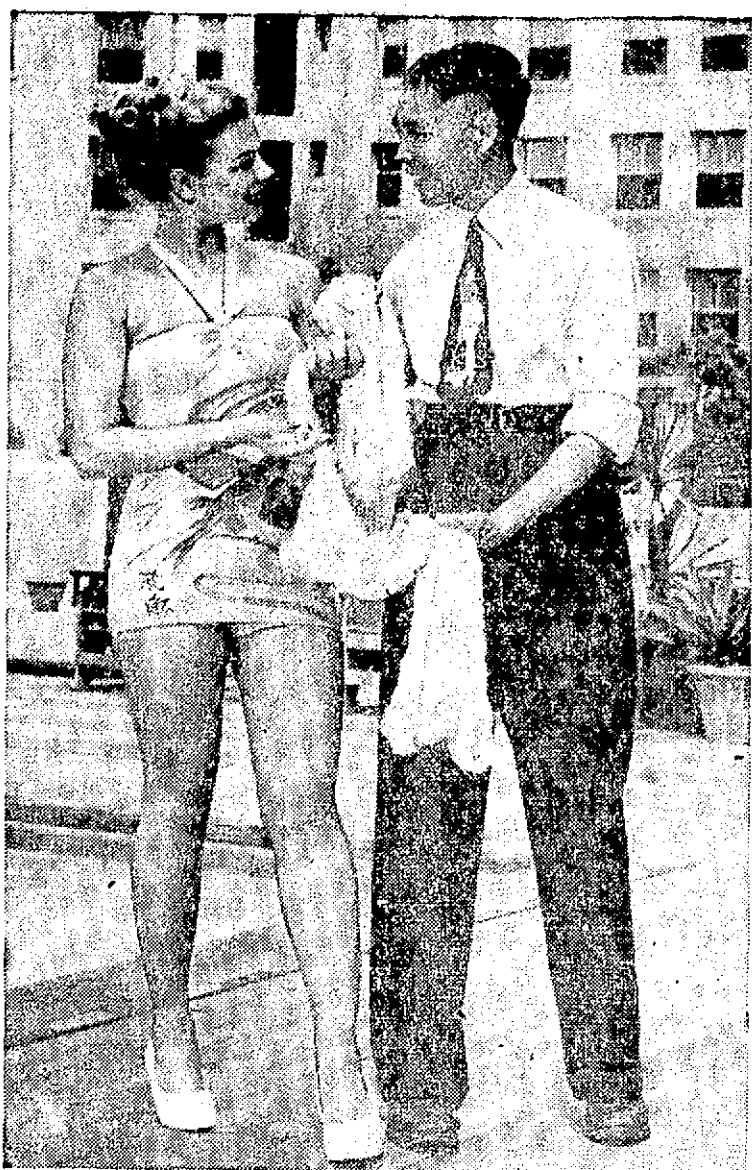

Meantime the civil war pursues its bloody and destructive course in the Holy Land. From Cairo comes a report that forces from Trans-Jordan and other Arab countries are planning an immediate invasion of Palestine. There also is a hint of Egyptian action at sea in support of the Arabs.

A fierce battle seems to be boiling up between Jews and Arabs for possession of ancient Jerusalem, holy place of three great religions — Christianity, Judaism and Mohammedanism. Both sides have drawn up their armies on the southern edge of the city.

Back in Lake Success the United Nations, lacking experience of the gravity of the situation, are moving for immediate action to protect the people and the shrines of Jerusalem. But one wonders whether we are going to hear once more these fateful words "too late."

And from Washington comes word that the Palestine problem may be one of the important issues which brought Secretary of State Marshall back from the Inter-American Conference at Bogota before its finish.

Russia's Sudden Joining of UN Trusteeship Body Points to Ambitions in Mid-East

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Palestine crisis has taken on fresh international importance as the result of Russia's unsual about-face in joining the United Nations trusteeship council after boycotting that body for 13 months.

The Muscovite action apparently is an effort to further a double ambition: (1) To gain a foothold in the militarily strategic and oil-rich Middle East, and (2) to prevent extension of American power in that vital area.

The development has a somewhat complicated background, but the nub of it is this: The U. N. Political Committee, comprising the entire membership of the peace organization, has for some time been considering an American plan for trusteeship over Palestine.

Pennsylvania Primary Is Held Today

Philadelphia, April 27 — (AP)—Last-minute campaigning to pile up write-in votes for Harold E. Stassen enlivened light balloting in Pennsylvania's presidential preference primaries today.

Voters trickled into polling booths in most sections of the state during early hours as Republican presidential aspirants matched strength in this politically important industrial stronghold.

An exception to the light voting trend was in Harrisburg area where GOP state chairman M. Harvey Taylor is challenged in his bid for another term in the State Senate.

On the republican side of the ledger, a blank space on the ballot was expected to provide a sampling of voter sentiment on the party's leading candidates although the balloting will have no pre-convention effect on the state's 73-member pledged G.O.P. delegation.

Democratic voters, at the same time, were selecting their 74-member convention delegation which already has been pledged to support the candidacy of President Truman.

Only about 30 per cent of the state's 2,676,972 registered Republicans and 1,779,090 Democrats were expected to visit the polls, open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. (eastern Standard Time).

A light vote was anticipated partly because of a lack of statewide contests and partly because none of the presidential candidates had campaigned actively in Pennsylvania prior to the primary.

The write-in vote will bring Dewey, Stassen and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio against Pennsylvania's favorite son candidate, U. S. Senator Edward Martin.

Martin, a former Pennsylvania governor, is expected to receive the state delegation's support at the G.O.P. convention in Philadelphia in June, at least on the first ballot and until a trend is indicated for another candidate in sufficient strength to warrant a shift.

Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party was not eligible for the primaries, although some write-in voting was expected for the third party candidate. Some write-in votes also were anticipated for Dwight D. Eisenhower, although he has insisted he is not a presidential candidate.

President Truman's name was printed on the Democratic ballot, in addition to selecting convention delegates, the state's voters will nominate candidates for state auditor general and state treasurer, all 33 U. S. representatives, 25 or half of the state senate, and all 208 state representatives.

Loses Her Breach of Promise Suit

London, April 27 — (AP)—A high court jury today denied Mrs. Imelda Catherine Price's claim for damages against U. S. Vice Consul Ernest Griffin in a breach of promise suit.

Costs were assessed against Mrs. Price, a blonde Briton. The jury was out 80 minutes after hearing Griffin testify Mrs. Price was "forcing the pace" with an offer to go to bed with him before they were married.

Mrs. Price, 40-year old widow of an RAF bomber pilot, has denied making the proposal. She testified that she did take off her dress and go to bed in Griffin's apartment for a cat nap because she was tired.

Mrs. Price sued Griffin, 39, a native of Galena, Kas., for breach of promise. The case went to the jury today.

Griffin said their engagement was broken off by oral agreement. He admitted authorship of love letters submitted by Mrs. Price's attorney, who asked:

"Are you saying now that it was this lady who was forcing the pace?"

"I think she did her share," Griffin replied.

"You were pretty enthusiastic yourself?" the cross examiner demanded.

"Yes, I was very fond of her," Griffin replied.

"Are you really asking the jury to believe that within three minutes of entering the apartment she took her clothes off?"

"That is so."

"And then ordered you into bed?"

"That is right," Griffin answered.

Asked if he was "fighting for your virtue," Griffin replied: "Not necessarily."

Griffin testified that when Mrs. Price undressed and got into bed he went into the sitting room to write some letters.

Man Burns to Death at Rector

Rector, April 27 — (AP)—One man was burned to death, another hurt critically and a country store was destroyed by fire near here today as the result of a traffic accident.

Dead was Ernest Fitzgerald, 21, of Rector, who was burned in the wreckage of his old model automobile. In a hospital at Paragould in critical condition was Ralph Mebane, 20, Piggott, driver of a gasoline tank truck.

Fitzgerald's car and Mebane's truck collided at Hardgrove's junction—where state highway one crosses state highway 90 three miles east of here. The gasoline in the tanks ignited and exploded. Fitzgerald's car was engulfed in flames. Mebane extricated himself from his blazing car but was burned about the head, arms and legs.

The flaming gasoline was splashed by the explosion on a store belonging to Enoch A. Fisk, setting it afire. It burned with total loss which was not immediately estimated.

Civil Rights Fight Taken Into Delta

Blytheville, April 27 — (UP)—Gov. Ben Lancy brought his fight against President Truman's civil rights legislation into the Delta country of Arkansas today.

He addressed a joint luncheon of Blytheville civic clubs at noon and was scheduled to speak tonight at Osceola.

The governor opened his statewide fight against Mr. Truman's so-called anti-South proposals last week in Hope. He has scheduled another similar speech next month in Hot Springs.

Accompanying Lancy today was State Police Director Jack Porter.
